STATEMENTS REGARDING THE COURSE OF INSTRUCTION.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES AND INSTRUCTION.

The students attend daily morning and evening prayers in the College Chapel. On Saturday evening the attendance is voluntary.

On Sunday at 4½ o'clock, P. M., Evening Prayer is said, followed by a sermon. All students are required to be present. They attend the morning service at such church in the city as their parents or guardians designate.

Voluntary services are held during Advent and Lent, and at other times, in connection with the pastoral work in the College.

The Monday morning recitation is devoted to religious studies. These comprise, during the College course, the following subjects: Introduction to the study of the Holy Scriptures, including critical readings of the New Testament in Greek; Evidences of Christianity; the Articles of the Christian Faith as contained in the Apostles' Creed; and the Book of Common Prayer.

LOGIC AND OTHER STUDIES.

The Rt. Rev. John Williams, D. D., gives instruction in Logic to the Senior and Junior Classes, by recitations and lectures, from week to week throughout the year.

Special attention is given, in Ethics and Evidences, to Butler's Analogy and Butler's Sermons; in Natural Philosophy, to Optics and Meteorology; in Natural Science, to Mineralogy, Botany and Zoology, as a preparation for the study of Geology. The recitations are, as far as practicable, in writing.

ENGLISH.

In the written translations of the Freshman year, attention is given specially to the change of Greek or Latin idioms into English idioms, and, in connection with the study of English synonyms, exactness is required in the choice of words. Seniors, Juniors, and Sophomores are expected to write essays once in three weeks throughout the year.

During Senior year, in connection with a critical study of Shakspeare especially as illustrating English History, members of the Class meet weekly to read Shakspeare under the direction of the Professor of English.

Special attention is given in the studies of the course to the early English Literature and to the History of the Language.

The course in Oratory is as follows :

Freshman Year ; the study of gesture, attitude and action, with frequent exercises in declamation.

Sophomore Year ; the study of vocal culture, with practical exercises in reading and declamation.

Junior Year ; same as the Sophomore year, with the addition of poetic recitations.

Senior Year ; lectures on manner and style in public speaking, with readings from the plays of Shakspeare.

MODERN LANGUAGES.

Instruction in Spanish and Italian is given without extra charge, to any members of the Senior Class who may desire it.

EXAMINATIONS.

Monthly Reviews are held in each Department at the end of every four weeks.

The Examinations at the close of Christmas Term are upon the studies of the whole Term.

The Annual Examinations, in presence of Committees appointed by the Corporation, the Board of Fellows, and the Faculty, are in writing, upon all the studies of the year. The Examinations of the Seniors for degrees begin on June 17th, 1867, and the Junior, Sophomore, and Freshman Examinations begin on the 1st of July.

Examinations for Honors follow the Annual Examinations. Admission to these is regarded as itself an honor, as it is gained by passing the Monthly Reviews and the Annual Examinations with great credit. Success in the Examinations for Honors entitles a student to peculiar distinctions both during and after his College course.

EXAMINATIONS FOR THE DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF SCIENCE.

Students may receive the degree of Bachelor of Science, provided they have resided at least two years and a half in College, and have regularly passed the examinations in all the prescribed studies of the Academic course, except the Greek ; together with a further and more particular examination, satisfactory to the Faculty and Board of Examiners, in either of the following branches, viz. ; Differential and Integral Calculus; Practical Astronomy; Analytical and Agricultural Chemistry; Geology and Mineralogy; Natural History; or Civil Engineering.

Any Student of the College may receive the Degree of Bachelor of Science, together with that of Bachelor of Arts, upon passing a special examination in the regular Mathematical and Scientific course, and the further examination above indicated.

MATRICULATION.

Extracts from the College Statutes.

SEC. 1. Matriculation shall consist in signing, in the presence of the President, Faculty, and others, the following promise:

"I promise to observe the statutes, lawful usages and customs of Trinity College; and to maintain and defend her rights, privileges and immunities, at all times and in all places, according to my station and duties in the same."

SEC. 2. All non-matriculated persons are considered as on probation, and therefore not entitled to the full privilege of members of the Institution. Upon giving evidence of good character, they are admitted to matriculation at the close of the term in which they have entered. Unless they are allowed to matriculate as early as at the end of the second term of their course, they cease to be students of the College.

STANDING.

The standing of a student is reckoned from the beginning of the Freshman year, and is determined by his diligence in study, his punctuality in attendance, and his general good conduct.

At the close of each term, a report of the scholarship, attendance and conduct of each student is transmitted to his Parent or Guardian.

Appointments at Commencement are assigned to the members of the Senior Class according to the aggregate of marks attained by each of them during the entire College course. When a student has entered an advanced class, or, except in case of sickness, has been absent from College for a long time, his standing for each term of his absence is considered to be the same as that which he has gained while in residence, with a reduction of 5 per cent.

No appointments are ordinarily assigned to any student who has entered College at or after the beginning of the Senior year.

TERMS AND VACATIONS.

There are two terms in the Academic year. Christmas Term begins about the middle of September. Trinity Term begins near the 20th of January and closes with Commencement. Commencement Day is the second Thursday in July (in 1867, July 11).

Christmas Vacation continues about four weeks. Trinity Vacation continues nine weeks from Commencement. There is also a recess of nearly a week in the Spring.

LIBRARY AND CABINET.

The Library contains about 10,000 volumes, and is increasing from the income of the Bishop Burgess, Elton, Sheffield, and Peters Funds, amounting in the aggregate to $20,700.

The Alumni Library Fund now amounts to $1,800.

The Library contains besides the Books, various engravings and paintings.

Books can be consulted and drawn by the students every Saturday from 10 to 12 A. M.

The Cabinet possesses a valuable collection of Minerals, Fossils, and Shells, and is open for examination and study every Saturday morning.

The Libraries of the Literary Societies contain about 5,000 volumes, exclusive of pamphlets and unbound volumes, which can be used under the rules of the societies.

Good washing can be procured at fifty to seventy-five cents a dozen. Any unnecessary damages to the College property in any Section, are assessed upon all the occupants of that Section.

Students admitted to advanced classes, except those from other Colleges, are required to pay $12 for each term of their advancement. This charge is remitted to indigent students.

Through a bequest of $15,000 made by Mrs. Sarah Gregor, and through the scholarships mentioned hereafter, the College is enabled to remit the fee for tuition to all who are unable to pay it.

Necessitous students are also provided to a large extent with textbooks, by means of a lending library established for that purpose.

No student can receive his degree or an honorable dismissal until the Bursar certifies that all his College bills are paid, and that so far as the Bursar knows, there are no lawful claims upon him for board or washing which he has failed to satisfy.

To prevent extravagant or improper expenditures, it is recommended that all funds designed for the use of students be placed in the hands of the College Bursar, Professor Brocklesby.

TRINITY COLLEGE was founded in 1823, by the late Rt. Rev. Bishop Brownell, and other devoted and zealous churchmen of the Diocese of Connecticut, for the purpose of advancing the general interests of literature and science, and also of affording to those persons who are attached to the principles and usages of the Episcopal Church, an opportunity of placing their sons under the care of instructors of the same communion. It was also hoped that the institution might open to the Church the means of more effectually promoting the cause of Religion, by giving a thorough academical and classical training to young men who were looking forward to Holy Orders. Its Academic course is substantially the same as that of other Institutions of learning of the highest class. It is also designed, by the careful inculcation of religious principles, to make its students not only good scholars but good citizens and good men.

The grounds comprise fourteen acres beautifully situated upon an eminence in the neighborhood of Hartford, and overlooking the City Park. In the rear they are skirted by the Little River, which empties into the Connecticut River at Dutch Point. They are handsomely laid out and planted, and few spots, more attractive or better fitted for the quiet and tranquillity of Academic life can any where be found.

The buildings, of which the vignette at the top of this sheet is a representation, are three in number. They are constructed of brown sand-stone, and may be regarded as the eastern front of the proposed College Quadrangle. They are named Seabury, Jarvis and Brownell Halls, from the first three Bishops of Connecticut.

The endowment consists of about $220,000 of productive property. This includes two Professorships, with an endowment of $20,000 each, one of $15,000, one of $14,000, a Chapel fund, amounting to $12,000, and a Library fund, to $21,000. There are 42 Scholarships, yielding an aggregate yearly income of about $2,000 and a Gregor fund of $15,000, the income of which may be appropriated to a similar purpose. There are also five competitive scholarships each worth $100 per annum.

The instruction of the College is carried on by six Professors, viz: a Professor of Moral Philosophy, of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy, of Chemistry and Natural Science, of Rhetoric and Belles Lettres, of Greek, and of Latin. There are also Lecturers on various scientific and literary subjects. The Library contains about 11,000 volumes, and is steadily increasing. There is also a valuable Cabinet of Minerals, and the Philosophical room is provided with all needful apparatus.

The Bishop of Connecticut, is ex-officio Chancellor, and head of the College, and takes a part in the instruction. Annually on Trinity Sunday, he makes a regular visitation. At the last Visitation, nine of the students were confirmed. The religious training of the students is committed to a Chaplain, assisted by the other clerical members of the Faculty. There is daily morning and evening prayer in the College Chapel, and full Service with a sermon on every Sunday afternoon. There are also special services during Advent and Lent.

The course of Instruction occupies four years, and embraces all the subjects of the complete Academic course, adopted in our highest seats of learning. The requirements for admission are the following, or their equivalents —
